HUNTING IN SPAIN

SPANISH IBEX

The Spanish Ibex is a strong mountain animal with four subspecies recognized by SCI: Gredos, Beceite, Ronda and South- Easter. This species can only be found on the Iberian Peninsula, distributed over the territory in four morphologically different types; Beceite Ibex in the Northeast, Gredos Ibex in the central and north-central, Southeastern Ibex in the southeast and Ronda Ibex, the smallest, which is located in the mountains of Ronda. The 4 species are included in the Ibex Grand Slam, and are considered as mountain species of first choice in the SCI and Grand Slam Club Ovis. Gredos Ibex has the darkest color hair and the horns in an S-shape. On the other hand, the body of the Beceite Ibex is not as big and robust as the Gredos Ibex but its horns rise vertically and lean out and backwards in a lyre shape with the top inwards. The Southeastern species is smaller than that the Gredos or Beceite, their horns rise vertically and lean out and backwards in a scimitar form with the tips inward. Finally, Ronda is the smallest type of Spanish Ibex with the smallest horns which grow upward in a V-shape in a straight way and then y end in a curve shape.

Since 8 years every clients have hunted with 99 % success. The best seasons to hunt big males is between November 15 to January 15.
